Outdoor Portrait Photography Workshop

with Shelton Muller

Sunday, February 28

9:30am to 5pm

How the Pro's get those amazing looking portraits in the natural world that just look so beautiful? It's easy when you understand how to control the light. Can I get pictures like that simply? Yes you can! Our Outdoor Portrait Workshop will teach you the secrets to getting great looking photos with classroom instruction teaching you the "what and why" of outdoor portraits. Our hands on shooting session will teach you the "how" and have you capturing your own amazing photos by the end of the day. You will learn to use, control and create light with precision. You will gain experience handling your self, your camera and your subject with the guidance of the workshop staff.

The Outdoor Portrait Workshop will be led by Mark Comon from Paul's Photo, Shelton Muller, renowned Australian photographer and editor of Australia's largest photo magazine and Glynn Lavender from Creative Photo Workshops, Australia's leader in photo instruction. Join us for an amazing day of learning photography and capturing amazing images and see how the folks from Down Under tackle tough lighting situations and produce great photos.

Workshop Schedule:

9.30 – 11.30am Understanding and using light for portraits
11.30 – Noon Lunch break
12.00 – 4.00pm Model shoot using techniques from morning session
4.00 – 5.00pm Image review and wrap up
